Scheduling your Visit...

- The months of March through June are the peak tourist season in Washington, DC. We strongly encourage groups to arrive prior to 11 AM or after 2 PM to avoid the typical high volume times of 11:30 AM – 1 PM when planning your visit to EAT at National Place so that everyone in your group may enjoy the meal of their choosing, and to ensure there will be sufficient seating, it is critical that you provide detailed information regarding your visit (including date / time / group size, as well as name of chaperone / guide and his/her contact information).
- During peak periods every effort will be made to accommodate your group; however seating is offered on an unreserved basis only and may not exceed the allowable capacity. We appreciate notification should your planned date or time change. If the Food Hall has reached its seating capacity and a large group arrives without having notified us of their visit, we will have to hold the group at the entrance until seating becomes available, or turn them away ...which we never want to do!

Drop Off & Pick Up...

- The District of Columbia Department of Transportation requires all tour buses to drop-off and pick-up at authorized locations. The drop off point closest to EAT at National Place is Ford's Theatre / Madame Tussauds Wax Museum, located at the corner of 10th & F Streets... just 3 short blocks away.
